ABOUT JOHANNISHOLM

Johannisholm Adventure at Johannisholms Stugby specialise in adventure and activity holidays. Situated just outside Mora, Sweden there are a range of cottages (stugor in Swedish), ready and welcoming for the guests providing a home away from home.

Every day is filled with activities. We have a summer full of canoe trips, quad biking and various other outdoor pursuits. But it doesn't stop once the summer is over. With the first snow fall brings the adrenaline rush of snowmobiling, a spot of ice fishing or winter camping in a homemade igloo.

Once the sun sets each evening there are a multitude of other activities to keep you going. We have our fantastic grill hut suitable for barbequing whatever the weather; a hot tub which can be used all year round, and our sauna both with traditional wood fired heating. Of course Swedish custom is to jump out of the sauna and into the plunge pool or roll in the snow...season depending!

We provide all the equipment necessary for having a great time here in Sweden; from canoes and mountain bikes to snowmobiles, GPS and ski equipment.

With friendly staff and beautiful scenery, Johannisholm Adventure really is the place to come for your holiday.

We cater for families and groups, no matter the age group, tailoring programs to accommodate any adventures you wish to have.

The week will be spent in a holiday village consisting of traditional Swedish cabins. The village is based deep in the Swedish forests (between towns of Mora and Malung). Here you will experience the peace and tranquillity of the forest, the extremes of cold and deep snow, and the comfort of warm cabins and open fires. Although the village has very few inhabitants you can see examples of Swedish life and sport on the various trips such as dog sledging, skiing, curling and the meal at the restaurant in Mora. Many of the meals at the village are based on traditional Swedish foods.

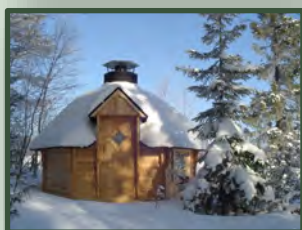

Another experience will be night sky (on a clear night you will see more stars than you can imagine) and also the long hours of darkness in midwinter. For this reason the activity program is designed to make best use of the short daylight hours and also enjoyment of the dark periods. So the activities listed below will sometimes entail an earlier start (especially where travelling is required) in order to enjoy them in daylight. Often the main activity will finish early in the afternoon (perhaps 3pm) because then it begins to get dark. On such days there will then be other supporting activities which will keep you busy into the evening.

Sometimes an early night (to bed) will be recommended if there is an early start next day – although we understand this can be hard if you are enjoying the social company!

The Swedish winter can bring quite sudden changes in the weather, temperatures and snow conditions; so part of Swedish life is learning to cope and adapt to these changes. We hope you will see this as part of the excitement of the holiday – as we sometimes face the challenge of adapting the program to sudden changes in weather or especially harsh conditions.
